Banking FAQ Assistant

Your local AI assistant for general banking questions.

Answers are generated using your banking FAQ dataset. If the dataset does not contain the answer, the assistant may be unable to help.

How can I use banking services on my phone?

To use banking services on your phone, download your bank's official app, enter your account details, verify with an OTP on your registered mobile, and set your MPIN.

What is a letter of credit?

A letter of credit is a bank guarantee issued to a seller, guaranteeing payment as long as the seller meets the delivery conditions, widely used in international trade.

What is a salary account?

A salary account is a zero-balance savings account where your employer credits your salary each month, often with extra perks like free insurance.

What is a cheque book?

A cheque book is a set of blank cheques given by your bank.

what is a transaction?

I couldn't find enough information to answer that question accurately.

can you tell me about my current balance of my account?

I can't access your personal bank account or see your balance, statements, or transactions. Please check your bank's official mobile app, website, or contact its official customer support. Never share your PIN, password, or OTP.

someone ask me for otp what should i do?

If someone asks for your OTP, you should:

- Politely decline to share it, as it's a temporary code sent to your phone or email for security purposes.
- Explain that you can't share your OTP, and suggest using the bank's official channels (like net banking or visiting a branch) to verify transactions or login attempts.

Example response: "I'm not comfortable sharing my OTP. Can you please use our bank's official channels to verify?"

what is a ATM>

An ATM (Automated Teller Machine) is an Automated Teller Machine. It lets you withdraw cash, check your balance, and do basic banking without visiting a branch.

What is a virtual card?

A virtual card is a digital card number used for online shopping without using your real card, keeping your actual card details safe.

What is an education loan?

According to the banking FAQ context, an education loan is a type of loan that helps students fund their higher education in India or abroad.

what is credit card?

According to our Digital Banking FAQ, a credit card lets you borrow money from the bank to make purchases. You pay it back later, and if you miss the deadline, you're charged interest.

what is a debit card?

A debit card is linked to your bank account. When you use it to shop or withdraw cash, the money is taken directly from your account.

What is a share?

A share represents a small ownership stake in a company. When you buy shares, you become a part-owner and can profit from the company's growth.

What is financial literacy?

Financial literacy is the knowledge and skills to make informed financial decisions — budgeting, saving, investing, understanding loans, and protecting against fraud.

How do I change my bank account's email ID?

To change your bank account's email ID, log in to net banking and update the email under account settings, or visit the branch. An OTP to your mobile will confirm the change.

How do I apply for a loan balance transfer?

To apply for a loan balance transfer, apply to the new bank with your existing loan statements, property papers (for home loan), and income documents. On approval, the new bank pays off the old lender.

How do I activate push notifications for my bank account?

To activate push notifications for your bank account, log in to your mobile banking app, go to notification settings, and enable push alerts for credits, debits, logins, and low balance warnings.

What is a cyber fraud recovery?

According to the banking FAQ context, a cyber fraud recovery is the process of recovering your account after being a victim of cyber fraud. To improve your chances of recovery, report immediately to your bank and the national cybercrime portal (cybercrime.gov.in) within 24 hours.

What is financial literacy?

Financial literacy is the knowledge and skills to make informed financial decisions — budgeting, saving, investing, understanding loans, and protecting against fraud.

For general information only. Confirm important banking decisions with your bank through its official channels.

Ask a general banking question...